

JANUARY 2013 PROGRAMS

JANUARY 6 "A NEW YEAR AND MANY NEW BEGINNINGS"

Join Cathy Hedge, Dylan Lambert-Perkins, and other Fellowship members as we share our dreams and thanksgivings for a fresh start in 2013. Happy New Year! Contact Cathy at cjhedgewriter@gamil.com or 537-1101.

JANUARY 13 "INSECT THEOLOGY"

Fellowship members Charley Kempthorne and Dick Beeman take a fly's-eye-view of poetry, religion and morals. They will give readings of insect-inspired poetry, and consider whether humans can derive any lessons from a study of insect behavior. Contact Dick 539-9369 or rbeeman@cox.net

JANUARY 20 "THE IMMENSE SILENCE"

Reverend Michael Nelson reflects, "Thomas Jefferson believed that slavery violated human nature's most sacred rights of life & liberties. What made him unable to practice what he preached? What stifles our ability to live out our progressive values? We celebrate Martin Luther King Junior's life of service so that we may." Contact Michael at 537-2349 or minister@uufm.net

JANUARY 27 "THE INTRINSIC VALUE AND SPIRITUAL WEIGHT OF CREATIVITY"

K-State ceramics faculty Dylan Beck and Amy Santoferraro will share how they engage in the creative process. They talk about how they work with material substances and processes to draw attention to often overlooked yet ubiquitous issues, and will speak about why they make their art--not only because it is personally rewarding, but also for its larger social implications. Contact/convener is Scott Tanona at 537-6208 or stanona@uufm.net

... Dalai Lama

What will call the promise of living meaningful lives into this new year? What will bring us into wider dimensions of spiritual authenticity? The willingness to expand beyond the strictures and structures of the way we always do things bears new possibilities and life. Living in awe before mystery, beauty, death and birth helps us to love more deeply. Our dissatisfactions become more pliable and can turn into satisfaction with less fuss, less fear, less fighting. Being in a state of readiness, a willingness to appreciate the process as it evolves, instead of being fixated on outcome, energizes. We still need goals, but ones fluid enough to let patterns evolve with unexpected grace.

A friend of mine, who is half Native-American and half Norwegian, believes technique is important, but essence is more important. She knows that some Native-American ceremonies performed with technical accuracy sometimes lack heart. The ceremony is done right, but the reason for its existence is lost. You can find this absence in painting, music, poetry, and in people's homes. The crafting may be exquisite, but lacks life.

A painting or poem can magnetize by subverting the rules. The deft use of black can move the eye forward instead of into shadow. A sudden shift in meter or syntax can break a poem into an unanticipated brightness. The right dose of experimentation animates. If we always do everything in the same order, using the same ingredients, we end up with the same old meal. Hitler walked his dog the same time everyday and believed that one needed an ice-cold heart to accomplish big goals. He surrounded himself with heartless people dedicated to monoculture.

Balancing improvisation with technique invites play. Without the quality of play--and I don't know what will happen, but exploration is fun attitude--life becomes rigid. When we risk being silly, everything can loosen. Cheer enters. The heart opens. When we insist on a prescribed formality, the cudgel of drudgery swings with its killing power. But without structure or expertise our creative efforts may result in chaos.

Compare the Dalai Lama and Hitler. Compassion widens the heart's capacity to experience pain and joy or the brutal endgame of an icy heart. One opens to the complexity of life giving options, the other contracts into a life negating rules. Addiction to perfection can kill the spirit. Yet we expect the laser surgeon to practice precision, and the concert pianist to play the right note. The best surgeons use dexterity and quickly adapt to the unexpected. A great performer finds something new in what they know in minute detail; always bringing in new life.

Rumi wrote, Your depression is connected to your insolence and refusal to praise. Let us be thankful for the new year and respect innovation,

Michael

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION NEWS

INTERIM DRE APPOINTED

At the December Board meeting, the UUFM Executive Board approved a plan presented by the DRE Search Committee recommending the hiring of long-time Religious Education volunteer Sandy Nelson to fill the vacant Director of Religious Education post on an interim basis. We welcome Sandy's continuing contributions to, and support of, our Youth Religious Education program. Sandy will be available in the Fellowship office Tuesdays and Thursdays, from 3:30 to 4:30 pm, or by appointment.

The search for a permanent DRE will continue. View the position description at www.uufm.net/2012/07/dre/.

RE VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES!!!

Adult volunteers of all ages are needed to help with our weekly RE classes. You can teach a single class, a few weeks, or a full semester. All volunteers will receive assistance and guidance in the classroom.

Don't have time to teach a class? Consider becoming a classroom substitute to fill in on days our regular teachers are unable to attend. Or, serve as a chaperone for occasional trips and other activities.

We also need adult helpers to assist teachers and students in the classrooms. All Fellowship members, from young adults to grandparents, are invited to get involved with our kids.

Small hands can leave a lot of stickiness and clutter in classrooms. Our janitor Troy is authorized for just 3 or 4 hours each week, and he simply doesn't have time to organize the RE rooms. Volunteers to assist with straightening and cleaning classrooms are always appreciated. Perhaps you and a group of friends might want to share this task.

Talk to Sandy Nelson after Sunday services, or contact her at 341-0135 or sandralounelson@yahoo.com, to learn more about ways you can support our youth Religious Education programs, or to offer suggestions and ideas of your own.

JANUARY FAMILY FUN

Bring the kids for PARENTS' NIGHT OUT on the first Friday of each month. On JANUARY 4 drop the kids off at 6:30 and pick them up at 9:30 pm. A fantabulous night is planned with fun, games, and activities! A free will donation of $5/child will help us defray costs.

We NEED parent volunteers to make Parent's Night Out possible. Can you help? Volunteers may choose the night they will be able to chaperon, and one time helpers are welcome. Talk to Sandy Nelson to learn more at 341-0135 or sandralounelson@yahoo.com

Learn more about all youth and family activities at the Fellowship from Sandy Nelson at 341-0135 or sandralounelson@yahoo.com

KEEP OUR KIDS SAFE!

Thank you everyone, for making sure all matches are safely secured following use, out of reach of small, curious fingers. Kids, please tell an adult about any matches you find. Let's all stay safe!

RESPECT FOR OUR FELLOWSHIP HOME

Let's all set a good example through our own actions. We can each make an effort to clean up after ourselves, as much as we each are able. Please remember to put away all toys, supplies, and equipment. Food, drinks, and dirty dishes should be returned to the kitchen. Let's make this a welcoming home for everyone!!!

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN A UNIVERSALIST AND A UNITARIAN?

Universalists think God is too good to send them to hell. Unitarians think they are too good for God to send them to hell.

A UU family moves into a new neighborhood. Their little girl finds a new playmate, and they are happily getting to know each other. One day, the playmate says, "We're Episcopalians, what are you?" The UU child thinks for a minute and says, "I'm not sure ... I think we're League of Women Voters."

A little Unitarian Universalist girl was sitting on the curb in front of her house with a sad look on her face. An older lady happened upon her and asked her why she looked so sad. The girl replied, "My kitty cat died."

The woman, trying to be helpful, said to the little girl, "I know you're sad, but right now your kitty cat is with Jesus."

The girl crinkled her nose for a second and replied, "What would Jesus want with a dead cat?"

The Kindergarten RE class was discussing "prayer," and the children seemed aware that the way you end a prayer was with "amen." "Does anyone know what amen means?" the teacher asked. There was a long silence. Then one little boy piped up with appropriate, computer-age gestures, and said, "Well, I think it means, like, "send."

(from the First Unitarian Church of Albuquerque, New Mexico)

Jesus said to them, "Who do you say that I am?" The Unitarian Universalist Christian replied, "You are the eschatological manifestation of the ground of our being, the kerygma of which we find the ultimate meaning in our interpersonal relationships." And Jesus said "... What?"

Do you have a favorite UU joke?
Send it to Susan at office@uufm.net!

NEED A RIDE TO THE FELLOWSHIP ?

The Caring Committee has organized a group of volunteer drivers to help folks get to Sunday morning services. If you need a ride, please contact Kathleen Oldfather at 537-3738 or kjoldfather@gmail.com

This year I am looking forward to our continued growth in a number of areas, and expect to see us better able to express and to work towards a common vision. We will be continuing the values discussions we have been having since our consultant visited last spring, as they are an important way for us to understand better what we each want out of the Fellowship and how we can better serve others. While there have been many values-laden discussions in services, many of us still haven't taken part in an explicit small group sharing of values—that's OK, but we want as many people to have talked about what they really care about (including with others you don't talk with regularly) so that we can better express a common vision for the Fellowship.

This year we will be combining further values discussions with an altered stewardship campaign, as recommended by the consultant. Stewardship is not just about money, and the stewardship campaign will not be just a pledge drive. We will be encouraging one-on-one conversations, but not primarily to ask for money. I invite you all to think about stewardship visits not in monetary terms--in fact, you should be expecting these visits even before the budget is decided--but rather think of these as chances for us all to visit about the meaning of the Fellowship in our lives and to discuss what we value about the Fellowship and how we would each like to see those values expressed in the future. Please keep an eye out for more news about stewardship soon.

To try to better reflect the values of the Fellowship, the board is supporting several other efforts in the Fellowship that will involve some adjustments of standard procedures. Among these: the Communications Committee is working on finding new ways, along with the web site, of keeping us all in touch (you may have noticed the weekly email notices Susan is sending out about upcoming events); we are continuing the search for a permanent DRE, but will be hiring a temporary RE coordinator/director in the meantime (you may have already heard that Sandy Nelson will be officially serving in this interim position starting January 1!); how we handle our endowment is getting a fresh look, precipitated partly by the addition of new gifts; and we are looking anew at how we track budget expenses, who has responsibilities for budget lines, and how we can best accommodate unanticipated expenses.

About the endowment: Jeune and Phil Kirmsers were very generous to the Fellowship in their wills, and we are blessed to now have an endowment that is more than five times larger than it was in the beginning of the year. I am inspired by their generosity, grateful for the increased financial security a growing endowment will provide, and looking forward to the Fellowship providing more people with the sort of meaningful community the Kirmsers fostered.

ALL ABOUT US

Please welcome our new member TAYLOR BACHMAN to the Fellowship. Taylor is originally from Fort Lauderdale and came to us via Denver, Colorado.

He joins us with RITA and their sons, CARTER and TUCKER. Taylor received his degree in business management from Florida State University and works in Land Development for Picerne Housing at Ft Riley. He especially likes creating parks and playgrounds. Usually, his boys are the first to play on them. He loves to see the families at the parks. That is why he joined us, because there is so much community. When I asked Taylor what he'd most like us to know about him, he said, "My family always comes first." Welcome, Taylor. We are glad you, Rita, and your sons are here.

XAVIER William Edward Castleberg Vennum was born at 9:45 pm on November 30. He weighed in at 7 lb 14 oz and measured 21 inches. His parents are AMBER and DREW VENNUM. Papa, Mama and baby are doing great. We look forward to watching him become the person he was born to be.

CHRISTY HAZEL recently graduated from Barton County Community College with AAS Technical Accounting and AAS Business Management and Leadership degrees. She took classes both online and at the satellite campus on base, while home schooling her son, Connor. She graduated with highest honors and became a member of both Alpha Sigma Lambda Honor Society and Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society. CONNOR returned to public school this year and is in the fourth grade. He recently performed in a play put on by an afterschool club. Christy, Connor, and Carl will be moving to Fort Lewis in Olympia, Washington, this summer, bringing them closer to their families

CYBIL PERKINS and TOM PHILLIPS performed in the production "Harmony for the Holidays," a concert featuring the Little Apple Chorus of Manhattan and the Wamego Dutch Mill Sweet Adeline Chorus, at McCain Auditorium.

MICHAELA SIEVERS has been very active at Wamego High the last two months. She performed in The Outsiders, in November. In early December she performed with the Honors Choir, High School Choir, a flute solo with the choir, and played with the High School Band--all in one evening. Michaela is a senior at Wamego High School.

NATE THOMPSON-WEAVER, son of LARRY WEAVER and GABRIELLE THOMPSON, graduates from KSU this month. He presented his BFA Thesis Exhibition recently at KSU's Mark A Chapman Gallery.
