

NOVEMBER 2014 PROGRAMS

NOVEMBER 2 "FINDING HOME"

Rev Michael Nelson reflects, "[We] need a safe place to live where we feel we belong; where we can flourish and become our best and truest selves. Our Fellowship has been housed in ... a beauty school [basement] and an array of places before putting down roots above Zeandale. What makes the Fellowship a home where a rainbow spectrum of people is welcomed into community life?" Contact Michael at 537-2349 or revmichael@uufm.net.

NOVEMBER 9 "WHERE THE PHYSICAL MEETS THE SPIRITUAL"

Fellowship member and longtime yoga instructor Ana Franklin reflects on ways in which we can think of the spiritual not as something extra-physical, but instead as something we can find physically embodied in practice. Contact Ana at 341-9908 or yogaconnection@gmail.com.

NOVEMBER 16 "THE TRAGEDY OF THE CLIMATE COMMONS"

Following up October's service by Matt Campbell on cutting carbon emissions, Fellowship members will discuss the challenges of acting for a cause when success seems unlikely; whether it is virtuous to act "for the common good" when those actions will have little or no effect on their own; and how we can best help society act in environmentally responsible ways. Contact/convener is Scott Tanona at 537-6208 or stanona@uufm.net.

NOVEMBER 23 "SPECTRUM OF SPIRITUALITY: CONGREGATIONALISM"

We continue our Spectrum of Spirituality series, connecting with members of other religious traditions in Manhattan. Katie Kingery-Page interviews Myles Alexander, an ordained Congregationalist minister, about his spiritual journey in this religious tradition. Contact Katie at 341-5650 or chairelect@uufm.net.

NOVEMBER 30 "OUTLAWING JELLY BEANS AND OTHER INJUSTICES"

Director of Religious Education Sandy Nelson convenes this intergenerational service. How do we use our power? How do we respond to injustice? Based on The Duke Who Outlawed Jelly Beans, by Johnny Valentine, a pompous and power-hungry duke is gently put in his place by the people in his kingdom. When we use our shared power in the name of love, we can overcome almost any obstacle. Contact Sandy at 341-0135 or dre@uufm.net.

One celebrates their ancestors in Sweden on All Soul's Day by putting votive candles on their graves. Halloween in Sweden is seen as a crass and commercial import from the states, but the ancient custom of honoring those you loved with light bonds with quiet power. The mellow flicker in the graveyards is not spooky. It connects one to the mystery of life cycles and the living memory of those who are dead, who continue to have a say in our lives.

In family therapy it's helpful to trace dysfunction by looking at the family tree to locate the origin of a dysfunction. The focus of the search can shift by looking for positive traits that run through a family's history. Studying my family tree helps to expand and focus my imagination. This summer in Sweden, I located a church gate Anders Esping, one of my forefathers, forged and shaped in the 1600's. In the 1500's, this branch of my family was summoned from Finland to Sweden by Gustav the First, Monarch of the House of Vasa, to help the king build better machines of war. They were master ironworkers. When you visit Lindsborg, you will find Malcolm Esping's metal work gracing all parts of the town with fantastic arms to hang signs, magical finials, golden wedding crowns, and andirons in the Red Bar Studio. The need to shape rough ore into useful and beautiful objects has been in my family for at least 600 years.

Connecting to one's heritage brings one into a more profound sense of who they are by telling them how they became who they are. We are here because of all those before us. This is true for anyone who participates in the life of Unitarian Universalist Fellowship of Manhattan. Those who started the Fellowship in the 1950's created a safe haven for people who question the status quo, and seek answers for life's big questions that they have burnt through the fire of their own experience. A culture which promotes free inquiry while providing support for a wide spectrum of beliefs is rare in this country. We have much to be thankful for.

We often don't pay attention to our roots because they are not visible, but if you love big oaks, you know that if their roots get damaged by earth moving equipment, or disturbed in any fundamental way, the tree suffers. Parts of the crown stop leafing out. The dead branches stick out reminding us of its suffering. As with trees, we should honor the roots of our progressive heritage so there can be healthy and vibrant growth. In the last decade, we have lost many of the Fellowship's founding members. These people dedicated themselves to nurturing this liberal faith with ingenuity and passion. Their sustained efforts make it possible for us to gather today. They inspire us to keep our minds and hearts open to an evolving truth that encourages us to live an authentic life. As we inherit the living tradition of free thinkers who worked to make the world better for all, we are called to learn more about our roots and to nourish them with love.

Let us honor all those who have given of themselves to help the Fellowship develop healthy roots and the resources to thrive. Do this by being bold models of love and building bridges of trust across cultural barriers so that we may more fully appreciate this magnificent life we are given to live.

PAXALWAYS PAX, Michael

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

RE NEWS

I love books. My kids and I spend a lot of time at the Manhattan Public Library. But this week the UUA Bookstore catalog arrived in my mailbox, and I found myself wanting to buy a few books. (I'm generally against buying books because the Manhattan library is so good, and I don't need to add to the clutter at our house.)

Did you know that there are several "parenting" books in our UUFM library? (Did you even know there was a UUFM library?) A few weeks ago I was browsing our library and found Praising Girls Well and Praising Boys Well both by Elizabeth Hartley-Brewer. Each book is filled with 100 tips for parents (and teachers). Understanding praise and how boys and girls react to it seems like a valuable parent resource.

Would you like to review these books? Or perhaps you also got the UUA Bookstore catalog, and you know of other books that could be added to our library. If so, please let me know.

I'm singing that song ... One, each person is worthwhile... two, be kind in all you do ... three, we help each other learn ... four, and search for what is true ... Seems like adding valuable parent tools to the library is right in line with our principles.

See you soon, Sandy

THE SEVEN UU PRINCIPLES

(SUNG TO THE TUNE OF DOE A DEER)

ONE, EACH PERSON IS WORTHWHILE.

TWO, BE KIND IN ALL YOU DO.

THREE, WE HELP EACH OTHER LEARN.

FOUR, AND SEARCH FOR WHAT IS TRUE.

SIX, WORK FOR A PEACEFUL WORLD.

SEVEN, THE WEB OF LIFE'S THE WAY.

SOCIAL ACTION AT UUFM

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

There are always openings for volunteers on our Sunday morning COFFEE AND GREETING TEAMS. New members and friends find this is a great way to get acquainted, and it's an easy way to give to the Fellowship with a minimal investment of time--only three or four Sundays each year. Learn more from Elke Lorenz, 218-4014 or ellorenz@uufm.net

This month, Fellowship volunteers prepare and serve HAPPY KITCHEN COMMUNITY BREAKFAST on Friday, NOVEMBER 14 and 28, from 7:30 to 9 am, at St Paul's Episcopal Church. Occasional volunteers are needed. Breakfast is free and open to the community, providing a good meal for many who might otherwise go without. All are invited, and freewill donations help us continue this service. Learn more from Jennifer Bryan at 537-0333 or snowbird@violinifer.com

MANHATTAN EMERGENCY SHELTER

Donate your aluminum cans to benefit the Manhattan Emergency Shelter, Inc, at Howie's Recycling, 625 South 10th Street. Funds generated from recycled aluminum will be placed in a designated account for MESI.

PERSONAL CARE DONATIONS

Travelers, do you wonder how the personal care items you collect, such as shampoo, soap, body lotion, etc, could be used? The Social Action Committee will be collecting personal hygiene products for The Crisis Center and the Manhattan Emergency Shelter. Folks arriving at these locations often come only with the clothing they are wearing. Personal care items are greatly appreciated. Look for the donation box in the narthex. Learn more from Betty Banner at 776-1887 or bettybanner@gmail.com.

HELPING HANDS SUNDAY

Each month on the second Sunday, our Social Action Committee selects a non-profit agency or organization to receive the morning offering. On Sunday, NOVEMBER 9, Helping Hands contributions will be collected for the UFM EXCELL FUND, providing transitional and enrichment opportunities for developmentally delayed students and adults over 18. Go to www.tryufm.org/excell.html to learn more about this vital service.

On October 12, Fellowship members and friends contributed $477 to The Crisis Center, providing support for victims of domestic abuse and sexual assault. Thank you all for your generosity! Learn more from Helping Hands coordinator Dixie Moreau at (785) 477-8188 or dixie.moreau53@att.net.

FAIR TRADE COFFEE, TEA, AND CHOCOLATE

Equal Exchange whole bean, ground, and decaf coffees, as well as chocolate and tea are available for purchase. To learn more, or to purchase fair trade products, see Anne Cowan following Sunday morning services at the Fair Trade display in the Fellowship's narthex, or contact her at 537-2025 or acowan@uufm.net

Equal Exchange works in collaboration with the Unitarian Universalist Service Committee. They source goods directly from farmer cooperatives, following the standards and principles of fair trade on 100 percent of its products. This ensures that farmers earn a fair price for their crops, allowing them to better meet their families' basic needs for food, education, health care, and long-term security.

FAIR TRADE MARKETPLACE IN NOVEMBER

The Ecumenical Campus Ministry at Kansas State University hosts a special event on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, NOVEMBER 12 to 14, in the K-State Student Union Courtyard. A Fair Trade Marketplace will be open Wednesday, 11 am to 6 pm; Thursday, 10 am to 7 pm; and Friday, 10 am to 5 pm. Come to find holiday gifts you can feel good about. There will be events, speakers, and a variety of Fair Trade goods, as well as games, prizes, and short films.

Our Social Action Committee will be present at the event, to offer Equal Exchange coffee, tea, and chocolate. We need volunteers to help set up, clean up, and staff the Equal Exchange table with shifts open on all days. This is an opportunity to raise funds for the Fellowship, and spread the good word about fair and sustainable farming practices and responsible consumerism. If you can lend a hand for an hour or two (or more) on any day, please contact Anne Cowan at 537-2025 or socialaction@uufm.net to learn how you can help.

WORDS FROM OUR CHAIR

HOLIDAY CRAFT AND BAKE SALE

Our annual Craft and Bake Sale will be held following the Sunday service on DECEMBER 14. This has been one of our most successful fundraisers and fun for all. It is a great way to pick up some wonderful Christmas gifts. We will be looking for handmade items and baked goods to sell that day. We especially want those who may want to make objects for the sale to have plenty of time to put their creative energy to work. To find out how you can donate your crafts or baked goods, or to offer other assistance, talk to Betty Banner at 776-1887 or bettybanner@gmail.com

PIANO STUDIO RECITAL

The Music Committee once again hosts this semester's recital of the students of Slawomir Dobrzanski Saturday, NOVEMBER 15, at 6 pm. We can expect spirited performances of lovely and interesting works by Tchaikovsky, Copland, Mozart, Prokofiev, Chopin, Liszt, and others. Everyone is welcome. Learn more from Michael Oldfather at 537-3738 or mou812@ksu.edu.

I have a question for you ... What is your ministry? We all know what a Minister is and does, he/she serves a congregation. We know now that we need to find a new one in the near future. But consider this definition of ministry from Webster's online: "a person or thing through which something is accomplished." That doesn't say you have to have the title of minister, go to divinity school or study religions.

How do you reach out in this community to serve others or how does our UUFM community minister to your needs? Recently I have been thinking about how we minister to one another. The Social Committee feeds us, the Grounds Committee makes us look good on the outside, the Aesthetics Committee adorns our sanctuary and narthex with beautiful artwork. The Programming Committee and our Minister engage us from week to week on thought provoking topics. These are ways we tend to each other's needs, even if you didn't know those needs were there.

And I have been thinking about how we minister to the community at large. Happy Kitchen, the GI rights hotline, and Helping Hands are ways our Social Action Committee reaches out to others. What other ways can we reach out? Do you live out your UU principles every day? Where you work? At home? Sometimes it's hard to let people know who you are, what you believe or where you go to church. But sometimes you might find someone who is looking for a liberal, progressive faith community.

I hope you will be a part of the conversation about what is ministry? What are our needs for a new minister? How do we live our Vision? How can we best serve our community, on Zeandale Road and in the greater Manhattan area? Let me know your thoughts, concerns and needs for the future of UUFM. I can't wait to hear all of your voices.

In Faith, Kathleen

Talk to UUFM Board Chair Kathleen Tanona before or after Sunday services, or contact her at 537-6208 or chair@uufm.net with your inspirations, questions, and concerns, or chat with any Board member. We want to hear from you!

COFFEE AND CONVERSATIONS--EXTENDED! Want to continue the conversation about a Sunday service? Have more to discuss? Join the new UUFM Coffee and Conversations FaceBook group for UUFM members (and active friends) for just this purpose. The group is invitation only, so your posts will be visible only to invited members. Ask Aimee Fowler for an invitation at aimee.mae@gmail.com.

Fellowship members may receive a hard copy of UU WORLD MAGAZINE, connecting us to projects, initiatives, and events in the wider UU world. The magazine is also available in a digital edition, accessible to everyone, that can be viewed on your tablet or in any browser. Visit www.uuworld.org to download the UU World app, or contact Susan Turner at 537-2349 or office@uufm.net, to receive a members' hard copy in the mail.

The Fellowship maintains an EMAIL LIST, for last minute program announcements, volunteer opportunities, details of community actions and events, and other information which may be posted by any member. The list averages two messages a day. You can set your account to receive each message individually; or grouped into one daily digest; or choose to receive nothing in your email box, and sign in to website to check postings. Contact Susan Turner at 537-2349 or office@uufm.net, to receive your invitation to join.

Are you on the UUFM Mailing List? If you're new to the Fellowship, sign our visitors book (ask anyone), and circle "Y" (Yes) in the "Add to Mail List?" column. At the beginning of each month, you'll receive our newsletter, The UUFM Voice. We also send out one email message each week with upcoming activities, events, and announcements. Keep up with everything that's happening at UUFM. If you aren't receiving the newsletter or weekly announcements, contact Susan Turner at 537-2349 or office@uufm.net.

$HOP $SMART GROCERY PROGRAM

Do you know about the Smart Shopper program, benefiting UUFM each time you shop? For every $100 you spend at Dillons, Ray's, and Hy-Vee, the store gives UUFM $5. What a deal! Totally painless! All you have to do is pay $50 for a grocery card to one of our teens, who will be offering grocery cards following Sunday services. Each card for Ray's Apple Market and Hy-Vee is $50. Then go buy your groceries. Each card worth $50 gives our Fellowship $2.50. Therefore, $100 earns $5 for us. Dillons is different, you pay $5 to UUFM for the card, then go to customer service at Dillons to load it with whatever amount you want to put on it. Learn more from Harriette Janke at 539-0865 or ahjanke@cox.net.

ALL ABOUT US

Fellowship member Cathy Hedge provides the following introduction to new Fellowship member Alex Stinson:

Please welcome our new member, Alex Stinson. Alex was an "Army brat" born in San Diego who eventually settled in Virginia. He graduated from James Madison University with a degree in English and history. He moved to Manhattan to pursue his master's degree at Kansas State. Alex is involved in some very exciting projects in Cultural Studies and Digital Humanities, dealing with, "How do we create a digital environment that people can learn from?"

Alex knew about the Unitarians through a Buddhist club in college. His fiancé, Sarah Lott was looking for a place where she fit in as part of a community. Alex came along. What he has since discovered is that UUFM is, "an anchor to a community, a place where we can communicate."

Besides his studies and his hobby of brewing fine beer, Alex is also a Wikipedia star. He has been editing articles since 2008. He has made over 80,000 changes and written 200 articles. He is currently contracted to work on Wikipedia outreach with GLAMS; galleries, libraries, archives, and museums. We are so glad you decided to join us, Alex!

If you are considering becoming a member of the Fellowship, talk to Michael Nelson, at 537-2349 or revmichael@uufm.net, or Shirley Hobrock at 776-3175 or welcome@uufm.net.
