AUGUST 2017
VOLUME 56, ISSUE 3

AUGUST 2017 SUNDAY SERVICES

AUGUST 6 "A TENDER TIME OR TINDERBOX? LESSONS FROM GENERAL ASSEMBLY"

Rev Jonalu Johnstone speaks. This year's Unitarian Universalist General Assembly elected a woman president for the first time, struggled with understandings of race and culture, mourned the death of a moderator and resignations of key personnel, heard a lecture by attorney Bryan Stevenson, author of Just Mercy, and reached out to the community of New Orleans to proclaim that Love Resists. Jonalu will report on a variety of actions and feelings coming out of GA. Convener is Kathleen Oldfather at 537-3738 or kjoldfather@gmail.com.

AUGUST 13 "ESCALATING INEQUALITY: HERE AND BEYOND"

Rev Jonalu Johnstone reflects. The expression "the rich get richer and the poor get poorer" has never been more true than in recent decades in the US. The UUA 2014-2018 Congregational Study Action Issue focuses on the growing inequality of wealth and income in the US. A moral economic system would do more to eradicate inequality based on race and gender, increase access to goods and services, especially necessities like housing and health care, and so much more. The GA approved this Statement of Conscience, and there is now a year for implementation in our congregations. How might we address these issues in our community? Jessica Sievers, at 532-8471 or sieversj@gmail.com, convenes.

AUGUST 20 "THE CORRUPTION OF OUR DEMOCRACY"

Rev Jonalu Johnstone considers the fifth UU Principle, which asserts our commitment as a movement to democratic process and principles within our nation, as well as in our congregations. The UUA 2016-2020 Congregational Study Action Issue invites us to consider how corporate personhood and money as speech affect and undermine the democratic values we prize. With voting rights under attack and voting districts gerrymandered to benefit incumbents, do we need a moral political revolution? What might that look like? Convener is Ana Franklin at 341-9908 or yogaconnection@gmail.com.

AUGUST 27 "THE JOY OF SMALL THINGS"

Jack Gaede, Intern Minister from All Souls UU Church in Kansas City, joins us. In the chaos, bustle, hurry, and joy of the summer season, where are you finding peace, stillness, and simplicity? Many of our poets and teachers speak of small things--of the mundane, and they often find such joy and contentment there. What are the small things in your life? Where do you find your simple joys? Convener is Elke Lorenz at 218-4014 or elkelorenz9@gmail.com.

When you read this, I will likely be on vacation--headed back to West Virginia to revisit wonderful old haunts from decades ago. What will have changed? I wonder. What will still be the same?

In our memories, our old homes and hangouts never change. Or maybe they do, as our memories are rarely photographic and our minds are often unreliable on details.

VIEW OF SENECA ROCKS,
MONONGAHELA NATIONAL FOREST,
WEST VIRGINIA

The house I lived in on Jordan Run Road gets confused with the house I lived in on Fish Hatchery Road. I can't be sure of the distances to landmarks around town.

Yet, I know when I get to Petersburg, I'll be able to drive to the Dairy Queen and Seneca Rocks, even if I can't tell you how to get there. Odd, how our minds work with old information.

In many ways, we are the sum of our experiences, but even more we are the sum of our memories of our experiences. Our view of the past may be idealized or romanticized. We may remember only the highlights, the moments of excitement and pleasure. Or we may play the opposite game, and make the past out to be a horrible place to live, and remember only the worst of it.

I've found the truth to be more complicated. The best times in our lives had a day or two of boredom or anxiety and the worst times had one supportive friend, a nice day at the beach or a realization that paved the way to a valuable change. I remember that when I compare notes with someone else and find their memories don't quite jive with my own.

We may be unable to change our past, but we can change the way we interpret and understand that past. It can be a valuable exercise to revisit and see where we are in relation to the person we used to be. We come to understand ourselves better when we make that connection.

I'll do a bit of that, as I camp in Dolly Sods Wilderness and drive through familiar--but not quite the same--landscapes and towns and I used to know so well.

May you have some quality time before the rush of fall begins to reconnect with yourself and understand a little better.

In faith and freedom, Jonalu

REV WILLIAM BARBER SPEAKS IN TOPEKA

The Kansas People's Agenda is working with the Poor People's Campaign: A National Call for a Moral Revival, and invites you to a Mass Meeting event on Monday, AUGUST 21, from 6 to 10 pm, with Rev Dr William J Barber II. The meeting features leaders from Kansas and Missouri along with Reverend Barber from Repairers of the Breach, coming together to revive the moral narrative and in opposition to a culture of systemic racism, entrenched poverty, militarism, environmental devastation, and related issues. Reviving the unfinished work and mission of Rev Dr Martin Luther King Jr. Learn more about the movement at poorpeoplescampaign.org/.

This is a chance to join forces with others across state lines to be agents of change, and share the vision for a message to our leaders in Kansas that change is due! MAPJ is chartering a bus to the rally in Topeka leaving at 4:30 pm, on August 21. Learn more from John Exdell at 317-7243 or exdelljohn@gmail.com.

The choir will open the service with a rousing anthem and close proceedings with Schubert's beautiful paean to music, An Die Musik. So far, only two other slots in between have been filled--Jim Shanteau on saxophone, and a four-hand piano piece featuring Slawomir Dobrzansky and Matthew Meals--so there is plenty of room to accommodate individual performers and small groups wishing to strut their stuff for the rest of us. Members of the Music Committee--Dick Beeman, Pat Embers, Cathy Hedge, Marisa Larson, Renea Reasoner, Jim Shanteau, and Michael Oldfather, chair, at 537-3738 or mou812@ksu.edu--welcome volunteers of all ages, at every stage of their development as performers.

Our UU CAMPUS LUNCH coordinator will be stepping down following the June gathering (currently, second Thursday of each month, at 12 noon), and is seeking a new volunteer to set meeting places and times, and send out announcements. Learn more from Sue Pray at 313-3158 or suepray@ksu.edu.

There are always openings for volunteers on our Sunday morning COFFEE AND GREETING TEAMS. New members and friends find this is a great way to get acquainted, and it's an easy way to give to the Fellowship with a minimal investment of time--three or four Sundays each year. Ask Harriette Janke at 539-0865 or harriettejanke@gmail.com.

The Fellowship's PICNIC TABLES are in need of maintenance. A volunteer has stepped forward to paint, but first, there is some repair needed to the woodwork on the tables. RE will cover expenses. Learn more from Sandy Nelson at 341-0135 or dre@uufm.net.

HELPING HANDS SUNDAY

Each month on the second Sunday, our Social Action Committee selects a non-profit agency or organization to receive the morning offering. Learn more at www.flinthillscommunityclinic.org/.

RICO LAW BOARD MEETING

John Exdell and the Coalition for Equal Justice will present latest data on racial disparity in marijuana-related arrests in Riley County at the September RICO Law Board meeting. UUFM is a part of this coalition, and we have gone public through a letter to the editor, following the passage of our congregational resolution. It would be great to have a strong showing of UUs at the Law Board meeting, on Monday, SEPTEMBER 18, at 12noon in the City Commission Room, City Hall, 1101 Poyntz Ave. The Law Board meetings are televised on Cable channel 3. The minutes of the August Law Board meeting note the Fraternal Order of Police point of view on this issue, and can be viewed at <https://cityofmhk.com/ArchiveCenter/ViewFile/Item/5789>. Learn more from Katie Kingery-Page at 341-5650 or kingerypage@gmail.com.

Help our RE students raise money for a good cause.

Bring your aluminum cans and place them in the collection box at the end of the counter in the Jupiter room.

Last year, students used funds raised through recycling for the Animal Shelter. They'll select the recipient of this year's funds at the end of the year.

TREASURER'S REPORT

A new year is underway. The Fellowship's fiscal year is June 1 to May 31. June was a big month for pledge income. As Treasurer, that gives me confidence that it's going to be a great year.

This week I'm reading Growing A Beloved Community, by Tom Owen-Towle. In it he writes about many aspects of Congregational life. On Stewardship he writes:

"Stewards always remember that their position as stakeholders is temporary. They co-shepherd a parish for a while, while they have it on loan. Stewards are not possessors; they don't own a church any more than they own a piece of land. They are simply the blessed recipients of a singular period in history. Stewards have been assigned a watch. They are entrusted with our UU legacy in the place where it comes to them. To handle it with exceeding reverence and care, to shape it while allowing it to shape them, and then to keep the gift moving Stewards keep vows, keep the books, keep resources flowing, and maintain historical records. Stewards are steadfast servants through thick and thin, through personal regrets, event through dislikes and defeats, because their loyalty is never to eras or trends or personalities alone."

Thank you for being steadfast stewards.
