

THE UUUFM VOICE

JULY 2017
VOLUME 56, ISSUE 2

JULY 2017 SUNDAY SERVICES

JULY 2 "A FREE NATION?"

Rev Jonalu Johnstone speaks. As we approach the Independence Day holiday, we consider what it means to be a free nation. Across the political spectrum, citizens view the adjective "free" differently. Libertarians want no restraint. Liberals believe freedom has to apply equally to all. Conservatives expect a high level of personal responsibility, focused on defending the freedom of the nation. We'll weigh the responsibilities and limitations of freedom, personal and national, and consider just how free a nation we live in. Contact Jonalu at 537-2349 or revjonalu@uufm.net.

JULY 9 "A FREE CHURCH?"

Rev Jonalu Johnstone reflects. At times UUism has been described as "a free church." What does that mean? A free church is sometimes defined by its separation from the government, in contrast to an established state church. Others see it as a ... church that [is] governed by its members, rather than by a hierarchy outside the church. Twentieth century UU theologian James Luther Adams proposed that a free church should be a ... diverse church and ... address a broad range of human issues. Our service will include a welcome of new members. Mark Clarke, at 341-7308 or ibyte64@gmail.com, convenes.

JULY 16 "HOLDING HANDS WITH ANGER"

Rev Thea Niefeld joins us. Welcoming anger and sitting with it is something new for me, as I end my first year as a steady restorative justice practitioner. The people who need what I do are mostly angry and I had to learn to accept the anger in the room in order to meet them where they are. I look forward to a conversation with other UUs about this fashionable and hot emotion. Convener is Rev Jonalu Johnstone at 537-2349 or revjonalu@uufm.net.

JULY 23 "MANHATTAN NONVIOLENCE INITIATIVE"

Susanne Glymour, Director of the Manhattan Nonviolence Initiative (through UFM), will join us. Visit www.facebook.com/manhattannonviolence/ to learn more. Convener is Tom Phillips at (405) 880-6483 or twp1@ksu.edu.

JULY 30 "ETHICAL EATING"

Christopher Renner, Carol Barta, and Elaine Mohr join us. Unitarian Universalists pay attention to the impact of our involvement in the food system. Ethical eating recognizes the moral consequences of food choices. How we raise, buy, and consume food has direct effects on the earth, ecosystem, and humans who work to make our food available. The Slow Food movement mirrors the UU commitment to environmental justice, working to preserve traditional and regional cuisine and encourage locally sustainable farming. Christopher Renner at 341-9459 or renner1974@gmail.com.

UUUFM is a
WELCOMING CONGREGATION
Learn more about the Welcoming Congregation initiative at www.uua.org/lgbtq/welcoming/program

I write this month's column from our General Assembly in New Orleans. We are listening to a diverse panel of people--various ages and racial identities--who all serve on the UUA Board, using their personal stories and experience to explore where we are as an association of congregations at this point in time.

I am surprised, and appreciative of what I am learning. I can't share all of it here. I will be talking about lessons from GA in worship in August.

For now, let me tell you what surprised me. We seem to be shifting to a different kind and quality of conversation. Conversation with depth and honesty. Not posturing. Not arguing. Not reports. Instead, listening deeply to one another. There seems agreement that we are at a moment that could truly transform us--our movement, our congregations, and ourselves, maybe even our world.

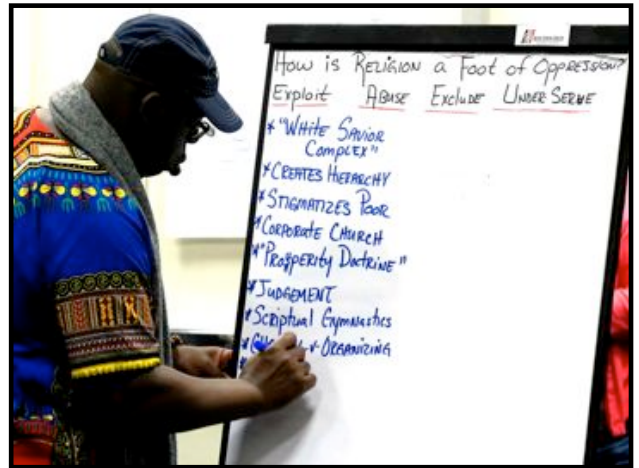

And central to success in this transformation is a shift in how we are together--trusting that others, especially those different from ourselves, have truths that we do not know, knowing you know things I do not know. And that we respond to that difference with curiosity. We are replacing single voices--that have most often been of people who are white--with diverse voices.

For instance, the UU Ministers Association held a worship service that instead of a single sermon had eight different people, each responding to an event within our association this year. Each spoke for two minutes about observations and feelings, then for a minute about needs and requests. The model used was Marshall Rosenberg's nonviolent communication. Then, we broke into small groups to do the same thing. Multiple, diverse voices instead of a single voice. Deep listening without interruption.

And, now, today, I am seeing the same approach in our General Assembly. Debates are not the best way to discern our true mission and purpose. We are changing. We are learning from the people of color in our midst. We are learning from women and from queer people. I don't know how this will evolve. No one does. I am excited about the possibilities.

So far, only two other slots in between have been filled--Jim Shanteau on saxophone, and a four-hand piano piece featuring Slawomir Dobrzansky and Matthew Meals--so there is plenty of room to accommodate individual performers and small groups wishing to strut their stuff for the rest of us. Members of the Music Committee--Dick Beeman, Pat Embers, Cathy Hedge, Marisa Larson, Renea Reasoner, Jim Shanteau, and Michael Oldfather, chair, at 537-3738 or mou812@ksu.edu--welcome volunteers of all ages, at every stage of their development as performers.

Renea Reasoner will be available to provide accompaniment.

MEADOWLARK HILLS SERVICE

There will be no Meadowlark service in July, while Rev Johnstone is away. Breakfast is free and open to the community, providing a good meal for many who might otherwise go without. All are invited, and free will donations help us continue this service.

We need volunteers to help staff UUFM's table at the PURPLE POWER PLAY event, in Manhattan City Park, on Thursday, August 31, and Friday, September 1. Our UU CAMPUS LUNCH coordinator will be stepping down following the June gathering (currently, second Thursday of each month, at 12 noon), and is seeking a new volunteer to set meeting places and times, and send out announcements. Learn more from Sue Pray at 313-3158 or suepray@ksu.edu.

Ask Harriette Janke at 539-0865 or harriettejanke@gmail.com.

HELPING HANDS SUNDAY

Each month on the second Sunday, our Social Action Committee selects a non-profit agency or organization to receive the morning offering. On Sunday, JULY 9, Helping Hands contributions will be collected for the GUARDIAN ANGELS, providing funds for men with immediate and urgent needs that are not met by traditional funding sources. Learn more at www.gafund.org.

GI RIGHTS HOTLINE

The Flint Hills GI Rights Hotline provides information and support to military personnel and their families about issues such as hardship or medical discharges, AWOL, conscientious objection, and more. UUFM Social Action, together with the Manhattan Alliance for Peace and Justice (MAPJ) and other local organizations, established the hotline in 2008. UUFM provided the space and support needed for the initial workshop. Since then UUFM Social Action has provided financial assistance for ongoing counselor training and helps provide lay counselors to answer calls to the hotline. Learn more from Anne Cowan at 537-2025 or anne_cowan@sbcglobal.net, or visit uufm.net/social-action/flint-hills-gi-rights-hotline/. For assistance call 1 877 477-4487.

STRATEGIC PLANNING COMMITTEE REPORT

The Strategic Planning Committee will be starting a series of conversations this summer and into the fall about change. It is clear that we are growing and our facilities as they are do not meet all of our needs. We have completed a site assessment and see the potential for an expansion, but there are limitations to growth at our current home. We talk in our vision about being a visible beacon and safe haven IN the community. We will have small group discussions on moving forward with expansion of our Zeandale Road site OR moving into Manhattan, for a more visible presence in the community. We will try and reach everyone in the congregation so as not to miss anyone's voice in this important discussion. Please be on the lookout for a time that works for you to share your thoughts and vision with your fellow congregants. And as always, please contact me with any concerns, thoughts, and suggestions. I'd love to hear from you!

In Faith, Kathleen

FROM OUR CHAIR

As Chair of the Board, I have the privilege of sharing that long-time member Jim Mitchell, who passed away last December, has left a gift of over $500,000 to our fellowship. While I did not know Jim personally, I want to share some things that I have learned about him to give everyone a picture of the person who left this generous gift to our fellowship. Jim was born in Youngstown, Ohio, on July 30, 1935. He earned a PhD from Ohio State University in psychology and studied the neural mechanisms of perception and behavior and had a special interest in "taste." His friends described him as "a great cook and wine connoisseur." He was a professor at K-State, active member of MAPJ and joined the Fellowship in 1987. Jim didn't like the services to be too "spiritual" or "religious," enjoyed lively discussions and welcomed visitors with kindness.

This gift comes to our fellowship at an exciting time of growth and change and I know that our congregation will use this gift to continue to share our vision of being a bold model of love and a visible beacon of liberal religion in our community.

In love and appreciation, Courtney Albin, Executive Board Chair, UUFM
