

AUGUST 2018 SUNDAY SERVICES

AUGUST 5 "GETTING TO KNOW UU: WHO WE ARE"

Rev Jonalu Johnstone presents this service. "We are co-creating the faith we long for," says The Rev Meg Riley, Senior Minister of the Church of the Larger Fellowship, a UU congregation without walls. If that's true, then it matters deeply who we are. A motley crew of theists, humanists, feminists, people of all ages, many backgrounds and many beliefs--some that contradict each other. What's our common ground? Who are we? Convener for this service is Rob Morrison at 480 861-1732 or william.robert.morrison@gmail.com.

AUGUST 12 "GETTING TO KNOW UU: 450 YEARS OF RELIGIOUS FREEDOM"

Jonalu Johnstone considers our history. In 1568, King John Sigismund of Transylvania proclaimed religious freedom for his kingdom. So began the Unitarian commitment to free thought that continues to this day. As we celebrate 450 years of religious freedom, what can we learn from the history we have lived? Marisa Larson, at 240 305-0895 or marisa.larson@gmail.com, convenes.

AUGUST 19 "GETTING TO KNOW UU: DEEDS, NOT CREEDS"

Rev Jonalu Johnstone reflects, "With the commitment to religious freedom came the commitment to action on this earth during our lives to make a difference. While it matters what we believe, it matters more what we do--how we live our lives as people, as parents, as partners, as workers, as citizens. We'll consider the legacy and future of living out a Unitarian Universalist faith." Convener is Larry Weaver at 539-3176 or lweaver@phys.ksu.edu.

AUGUST 26 "GETTING TO KNOW UU:

ADAPTING TO A CHANGING WORLD WITH A CHANGING SELF"

Our third principle calls for "acceptance of one another and encouragement to spiritual growth in our congregations." We expect that our ideas and perspectives with grow, deepen and even change. Our commitment begins in childhood, where we choose to encourage our children's curiosity and questions, rather than indoctrinating them. It continues lifelong, as we respond to developments in the world with flexibility and lifelong learning. Convener is Elke Lorenz at 785 218-4014 or elkelorenz9@gmail.com.

UUFM IS A WELCOMING CONGREGATION

Learn more about the Welcoming Congregation initiative at www.uua.org/lgbtq/welcoming/program

Why are you a Unitarian Universalist? (assuming you are!) Maybe you came for religious education for your children. Maybe the social activism drew you in. Maybe you were looking for a community of support after a difficult time in your life.

I stumbled onto Unitarian Universalism forty years ago when the Southern Baptist theology I grew up with no longer worked for me, but I still loved church. I continue to love the idea that people can come together to support one another and make a difference in the world. That's one story, but only one. Everyone has their own particular story. Together, we are writing a new story that includes us all.

"We are co-creating the faith we long for," says Rev Meg Riley, Senior Minister of the Church of the Larger Fellowship, a UU church without walls, primarily on the web (<https://www.questformeaning.org/clfuu/>). Most religions say, "Here is our tradition, and here's how you can fit it." We say something different. We invite each person to start from where they are. It's not that we don't have a tradition--we do. Our rich history extends back hundreds of years. But we are not tied to that tradition in a rigid way. We look more towards the future than towards the past. Yes, we are co-creating something.

Specifically, we UU's here in Manhattan are co-creating the UU Fellowship of Manhattan. Yes, people before us established it, bought a building, hired staff and looked toward a future. We are forever grateful to them, and to everyone who has shaped UUFM through the last sixty-one years. There's no way they could know who would be here now, or what their needs might be. Much less who will be here in another sixty years and what their needs might be. The only way we can make sure that needs keep being met is to continue the co-creation. UUFM doesn't look like what it did fifty years ago, and will not look the same as it does now in another fifty years. If it did, then we would be failing at the continuing co-creation.

During August, when newcomers tend to arrive in Manhattan, we'll be talking about our UUism and what it means. We'll have testimonials from some of our members, along with sharing our core values through our history, religious education, and activism. If you know someone who you think ought to be a Unitarian Universalist, this is a perfect time for them to visit with us on a Sunday morning. Pick up a postcard from the Visitors' Table in the narthex to share with them.

In the meantime, think about why you are a Unitarian Universalist. I hope that it brings something rich to your life.

In faith and freedom,

Jonalu

ONE-TIME COFFEE AND GREETING TEAM

We're seeking a team of three or four volunteers to serve one Sunday only, sometime in September. Our yearly schedule was shifted by one week in early June, and now, every week, our regular coffee and greeting teams are surprised to learn that their turn is coming up one week early. If you've ever considered joining a team, this is a great opportunity to find out how it works. We also need at least one experienced volunteer. Contact Susan Turner at 539-3272 or office@uufm.net to learn more.
